Benchmarking Local Climate Policies

The Conference will present results of Climate Alliance’s “Benchmarking Local Climate Policies” project, showing successful approaches for the development of ambitious local climate strategies and plans, reveal the most efficient measures and present achievements in figures from such committed urban sustainable energy policies.

The Covenant of Mayors is the European Commission’s new initiative, which invites local leaders to contribute on a voluntary basis to the achievement of the European Union’s 3 x 20 targets. Signatories to the Covenant commit to submitting a local Sustainable Energy Action Plan within the year following adhesion.

With inputs from:
- Pedro Ballesteros Torres, European Commission, DG TREN
- Peter Pichl, Federal Agency for Environment, Germany
- Hans Hertle, Ifeu Institute Heidelberg
- Astrid Hoffmann-Kallen, Head of the Climate Protection Department, City of Hannover
- Klaus Hoppe, Head of Energy Division, City of Freiburg
- Tom Balthazar, Deputy Mayor, City of Ghent
- Ronan Dantec, Vice-President, Nantes Métropole

Introduction & Facilitation by
Ulrike Janssen, Executive Director, Climate Alliance

More information: www.climatealliance.org